

Holmes County Republican.

H. W. LATHROP, Editor.
J. E. COOPER, Business Manager.

MILLERSBURG, O., Nov. 2, 1871.

THE CAMPAIGN OVER.

For some weeks we have been compelled to take up most of the space in the REPUBLICAN with political reading, and nothing else could be expected of us, as it was a duty we owed to our readers and the political party whose principles we espouse. We are now at liberty to come back to a general newspaper, a thing which we are very anxious for. Our aim is, and always shall be, to make the REPUBLICAN a good reliable family newspaper. Local interests and local news shall receive our constant care and attention, and by the aid of our friends everywhere, we can make our paper one that will be sought after by every well-regulated family. To this end we ask a hearty co-operation of every subscriber. It will be a benefit to you and a credit to the paper. There are a few things, however, of a local nature, and yet political in one sense, to which we shall feel called upon to refer while the minds of the people are not over excited with a warm political campaign, and in doing so we will be able to give facts and figures at a time when partisan feeling shall have been temporarily laid to one side.

STAMPS.

Stamps are a very necessary article and seldom possessed by the printer. We do not like to dun our patrons, but we cannot help ourselves. We have our obligations to meet, and the only way for us to do so is for every subscriber to pay his subscription in advance. It is with you but a matter of two dollars, but these two dollars scattered all over the country, when paid in to the printer, is what keeps the press going and pays for the hands and material used. Few people have any idea of the expense of running a newspaper, for, if they had, the two dollars would be promptly forthcoming and advertisers would be willing to pay a reasonable price for printer's ink.

We want to a great expense in fitting up our office, part of which is yet unpaid, and we ask every subscriber, who has not already done so, to pay us the two dollars and also assist us in securing new cash subscribers. You can do it without much trouble, and you will aid us very much. Our hands, our paper, and hundreds of other things must be paid for. Printers cannot afford to borrow money and trust. We do not want to lose a single subscriber, and therefore respectfully ask all to assist us by sending in their two dollars and by getting new subscribers.

EXCITEMENT IN UTAH.

Several arrests have been made for murder. Warrants are out for the arrest of Brigham Young, and his son Joseph A. Young, on the charge of murder in having ordered the killing of Richard Yates. The indictments in all these murder cases are understood to be founded on the testimony of Bill Hickman, who was once what is termed by the Gentiles a Danite or secret agent of the Mormon authorities. Yates visited the Mormon camp during the rebellion of 1859, ostensibly to sell powder. The Mormons regarded him as a spy, and some weeks afterward arrested him and placed him in custody of Hickman to be taken to Salt Lake. D. Wells then commanded the Mormon troops, and Hosea Stout was Judge Advocate. On the way to Salt Lake he killed Yates, as he says, by orders from Brigham and Joseph A. Young, and at the instigation of Wells and Stout. Hickman also is now confined at Camp Douglas, and went with the officers to Echo Canon, and after pointing out the spot where he had buried Yates, assisted in disinterment of the body.

LACK OF COAL.

Louisville has only about 75,000 bushels of coal left in her yards, and fears utter destitution in about ten days. The alarm in the city is becoming very great, and the price of fuel. New Albany has 60,000 bushels to spare, and there are nearly half a million bushels intended for Southern markets, lying below the falls, waiting for high water. This, with what little can be procured by rail, is what the city has to depend upon. Such crises as this are of no very uncommon occurrence in the Ohio river towns, and will doubtless remain so until they unite and render the Ohio navigable at all seasons.

DENSE SMOKE.

The Chicago Tribune says, "The smoke from the burning forests has been so dense for several days past on the Lakes that vessels find it dangerous to move, and the steamers burn lights constantly by day as well as by night. On Tuesday the wind from the northeast brought the pile of cloud over the city, and the streets and houses were filled with it. Outside the harbor were several vessels, the officers of which were afraid to attempt to enter the port, on account of the unnatural darkness." "turn to blood," as is promised shall be the case when the earth is destroyed by fire.

OFFICIAL RETURNS.

Official returns have at last been received at Columbus from all the counties in the State, and the footings at the Secretary of State's office, are as follows:

HURRAH! HURRAH! HURRAH!!!
Just look at the Republican pyramid for 1871:

OHIO.
IOWA.
MAINE.
INDIANA.
MONTANA.
WYOMING.
COLORADO.
CALIFORNIA.
CONNECTICUT.
PENNSYLVANIA.

Now on the Democratic pyramid for 1871:

ky.
The "Lone Star" and Kentucky mules won't in 1871. "Let us have peace."—Low Courier.

GLORIOUS IOWA.

The Republican majority in Iowa is only 40,000, and not a good year out there for majorities either! In politics or in battle, Iowa boys are always in the front for victory.

WEALTH OF BERLIN.

Berlin is growing as rapidly in wealth as in population, according to the journals published in that city. It now has fully 900,000 inhabitants, and those whose yearly incomes exceed $700 are nearly 16,000, while those having less than $200 number nearly 176,000. Over 500 citizens have at present more than $100,000 per annum, and 20 years ago hardly 20 of all the inhabitants could boast as large an income. No capital in Europe is increasing at such a rate as Berlin.

FRIENDLINESS.

England has in a substantial manner demonstrated her friendliness to the United States in liberal contributions of her people toward the relief fund for Chicago. Nor has England been alone in the good work, for her neighbors, Ireland and Scotland have been equally generous in their love offerings to the distressed people of the burned city of the west. The subscription from these countries amount to nearly $400,000.

IOWA.

Iowa, that good old reliable Republican State, which is out of debt, has money on interest, and pays a less rate of taxes than any other State in the Union, has done nobly, as she always does, giving a majority of upwards of 40,000 for the Republican ticket, and gaining several members of the Legislature. On account of the late fires in Chicago and the northwest, little attention was paid to election news. The following gives the result in the Legislature:

ELECTIONS TO TAKE PLACE IN NOVEMBER.

Elections are to be held in the following States during November:

- 7th—Maryland, election of Governor, State officers and Legislature.
- 7th—Massachusetts, election of Governor, State officers and Legislature.
- 7th—Minnesota, election of Governor, State officers and Legislature.
- 7th—Mississippi, election of Legislature.
- 7th—New Jersey, election of Governor and Legislature.
- 7th—Illinois, election of Congressmen at large.
- 7th—New York, election of State officers and Legislature.
- 7th—Wisconsin, election of Governor, State officers and Legislature.
- 7th—Nebraska, election of State officers if the new constitution shall have been adopted at the election, September 19.
- 7th—Virginia, legislative elections.

HON. THOMAS EWING.

This venerable statesman is dead. He was one of the last remnants of a generation of giants, a cotemporary of Clay, Webster, Calhoun, Haynes, Corwin, and those others who helped to form that brilliant assemblage whose fame still lingers, like the odor of musk around the Senate Chamber of the United States. Mr. Ewing was born on the 28th of December, 1789, and was married in 1820 to Miss Maria Boyle, of Lancaster, O., with whom he lived until 1864, when she died. He was a man of more ability than success. He very nearly received the nomination to the Vice Presidency which Millard Fillmore got, and twice he was defeated by a single vote, and a candidate for Senator of the United States. He first entered the United States Senate in 1830, and was afterwards chosen by President Harrison to fill the post of Secretary of the Treasury. Gen. Taylor appointed him to the Secretaryship of the Interior, after resigning which office he was once again chosen a member of the Senate, and then closed his congressional career. His death had been surrounded by his distinguished children, Hon. Thomas Ewing Jr., Gen. Charles Ewing, Gen. Hugh Ewing, Judge Philmore Ewing, Mrs. Gen. Sherman and Mrs. Col. Steele.

Pitts. Gaz.

The "prudent catholic State" is what her proud sons call the Commonwealth of Kansas. It all comes from the cultivation of castor beans.

CORRUPT TAMMANY.

Arrest of One Thief.

New York, Oct. 27.

REPORT OF CITIZENS' COMMITTEE.

The committee of citizens appointed by the Board of Supervisors, who have been engaged many weeks in examining frauds in the city accounts, to-day submitted a report as to their labors, such as a summary of facts and figures. This report is, first, authentic information on the subject of what has been furnished. The amount charged as the cost of the new court house still unfinished, county courts officers, their repairs, furniture, etc., is in all $13,416,932.29. The whole cost of the completed building could not fairly exceed $3,000,000. The increased sum is made up of $8,247,000 directly charged to the Court House building and its furniture. $52,229.10 is charged to the county offices, nearly all of which are in the same buildings. For repairs and furniture, the following items are included: $641,900.49 was paid for $17,876.90 worth of carpets, $2,960,185.01 was paid for $308,551.50 worth of furniture, $914,330.65 was paid for $73,732 worth of plumbing, $1,587,545.24 was paid for $76,050 worth of plastering. The sum of $7,168,212.23 was charged for advertising, printing, blank-books and stationery, since the 1st of January, 1866. The whole account shows that twenty-four millions and a quarter were paid as expenditures for what really is worth but four millions and three-quarters, giving a loss to the city of nineteen millions and a half. This is the amount stolen and divided among the ring thieves since January, 1869. This report concludes the two years and eight months, one half of the entire revenues of the city and county have been abstracted—much more than the entire city and county tax levy. The exhibit thus made creates a sensation among the honest tax-payers of the city.

THE ALL-ABSORBING TOPIC.

The arrest of Tweed is talked about all over the city. The reformers begin to think that the work has been practically commenced to secure a change in the city government, and give justice its dues. The Tweed political organizations, which are very numerous, feel disappointed at to-day's action. There is much interest awakened as facts are developed. Further proceedings from day to day will be exciting, especially to the politicians. Tweed's bail, fixed at two millions, was promptly furnished. His bondsmen were carefully examined by the Sheriff. They are Jay Gould, President of the Erie Railway, who has qualified for $1,000,000; Benjamin Fairchild, a Tammany auctioneer, qualifying for $800,000; Terrence Farley and Bernard Kelly, Tammany politicians, each qualifying for $300,000. In the House of Representatives, the Commercial Advertiser.

THE MORMON REGION.

Hawkins Sentenced.

SALT LAKE, Oct. 28.

Chief Justice McKean this forenoon passed sentence on Thomas Hawkins, the polygamist as follows: "Thomas Hawkins I am sorry for you, very sorry. You may not think so now, but I shall try to make you think so by the mercy which I will show you. You came from England to this country with the wife of your youth. For many years you was a loving husband and kind father. At length, however, the evil spirit tempted and possessed you. The happiness departed from your home, and now by the complaint of your faithful wife and the verdict of a law abiding jury, you stand at this bar a convicted criminal. The law gives me a large discretion in passing sentence on you. I might both fine and imprison, or I might fine you only or imprison. I might imprison you for twenty years and fine you $1,000. I can't imprison you less than three years nor fine you less than $300. It is right that you should be fined, among other rebels, to help defray the expenses of enforcing the laws, but my experience in Utah has been such that I will not do so. I am satisfied that the fine would be paid out of other than yours, and that you would go free absolutely from all punishment, and then those men who misled the people would make you and thousands of others believe God had sent the money to pay the fine, that God had prevented the court from sending you to jail, that by a miracle you had been rescued from the authorities of the United States. I must look to it that my judgment be not so severe as to seem vindictive and not so light as to seem to trifle with justice. This community ought to begin to learn that God does not interpose to rescue criminals from the consequences of their crimes, but on the contrary, he so orders the affairs of his universe, that sooner or later, crime stands face to face with justice, and I will say here and now, that whenever your good behavior and the public good shall justify me in doing so, I will gladly recommend that you be pardoned. The judgment of the Court is that you be fined $500, and that you be imprisoned at hard labor for the term of three years."

QUEEN VICTORIA'S HEALTH.

The continued health of Queen Victoria causes much unrest and uneasiness in England. Her pre-emptory refusal to establish a regency developed the fact that she shares in the popular belief that her successor will hardly be accepted by the people from her own family household. If a vicarious Government were successfully established during the life of the Queen the chances for elevation to the throne of her protégé son, the Prince of Wales, would grow beautifully less. It seems more apparent every day that a change in the form of Government in England is one of the probabilities of the near future.

By a repetition of the gross outrage heretofore perpetrated in Montgomery Co., in excluding the votes of soldiers at the asylum, a Democratic Senator is committed in the Montgomery-Preble district. The election judges guilty refusing those votes should be subjected to the full penalty prescribed by law for public canvassers who are guilty of their offense. Mr. Sawyer, the Republican candidate, should claim the seat which is clearly his by right. Let the Democrats face the music.—Cinn. Chronicle, qualified for 100,000.

REUNION AT CANAAN.

A few weeks ago, announcement was made through the papers, and by circulars, that there would be a reunion of the old teachers and students of Canaan Academy, on Thursday, October 26th, 1871. Having spent one year as teacher in said school, we answered the call by putting in an appearance on that morning, where some seventy-five to one hundred old scholars, representing classes as far back as 1843, had assembled. The little town of Canaan, usually so quiet and unassuming, was that day all hurry and bustle. Many who had never attended school there, came to see and hear, and the Academy building was full to overflowing. The old and the young were there. Many who had been pupils at the opening of the school, twenty-eight years ago, were now in the middle of life, even gray hair covered the heads of some. Others were in the full vigor of life, representing nearly all trades and professions. The young were there—those who had just begun to battle manfully with the cares of life. Greetings were given, recognitions made of faces and names long since forgotten. At two o'clock the exercises were opened by prayer by Rev. T. H. Barr, after which followed music and an address of welcome by Prof. John S. Weaver.

ADDRESS OF PROF. WEAVER:

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN: It is with feelings of reluctance that I address a welcome to those here to-day—not that I am reluctant to tell you you are welcome, but that I am utterly unable to express in words the gladness with which your presence inspires us. There are times within the experience of every person, when words are wholly inadequate for expression, when the hackneyed terms of conventional phrase serve only to bring down upon our sentiments from the pinnacle upon which the true sublimity of feeling has placed them, and when even the most lively streams from the burning lips of eloquence fail to convey the intensity of the emotions within us. To simply say "you are welcome" in the words of our plain, unadorned English language, would be to show coldness toward you. Yet as the index only points to more glorious truths contained within, so take our words as the index of our hearts, and know that we bid you all a hearty and hearty welcome. We are glad you have come—glad that in these days when our minds and hearts and sympathies are wrapped up with the suffering, and woe and misery of our fellow beings, that you should come with you some love for your "Alma Mater," that your interest in her welfare and success is not yet dead, although it has long been sleeping.

In the days of the old citizens and resident students of Canaan, I bid you welcome and assure you that with them there ever remains the tenderest remembrance of the days of "Long Syne." Time cannot break those ties that bind the past to the present, nor can distance sever them. We take you by the hand with the same degree of interest and friendship we felt for you years ago in your student life.

THE ALDINE.

THE ALDINE, which issues with all the regularity, has none of the temporary or daily interest characteristic of ordinary periodicals. It is an elegant miscellany of pure, light and graceful literature, and a collection of the most valuable and reliable information in black and white. Although each number affords a fresh pleasure to its friends, the real value and beauty of THE ALDINE will be most appreciated after it has been bound up at the close of the year.

NEW FEATURES FOR 1872.

THE ALDINE, which issues with all the regularity, has none of the temporary or daily interest characteristic of ordinary periodicals. It is an elegant miscellany of pure, light and graceful literature, and a collection of the most valuable and reliable information in black and white. Although each number affords a fresh pleasure to its friends, the real value and beauty of THE ALDINE will be most appreciated after it has been bound up at the close of the year.

ART DEPARTMENT.

The monthly department, which has been introduced, has convinced the publisher of THE ALDINE of the soundness of their theory that the American public would recognize and heartily support any sincere effort to elevate the tone and standard of illustrated publications.

LITERARY DEPARTMENT.

The monthly department, which has been introduced, has convinced the publisher of THE ALDINE of the soundness of their theory that the American public would recognize and heartily support any sincere effort to elevate the tone and standard of illustrated publications.

THE VOLUME FOR 1872.

will contain nearly 300 pages, and about 250 engravings. Commencing with the number for January, every third number will contain a complete and up-to-date list of the names of the authors of the literary department.

A Chromo to every subscriber.

was a very popular feature last year, and will be continued with the present volume.

TERMS FOR 1872.

One copy one year, with 10 Chromos, $5.00. Any person sending 10 names and $1.00 will receive an extra copy gratis, making 11 copies for the money.

JAMES SUTTON & CO., Publishers, 21 Liberty Street New York.

Furniture.

At SPEAR & SONS,

At SPEAR & SONS,

West Liberty Street,

WOOSTER, O.

THEY HAVE THE Largest, Best and Cheapest

Furniture establishment in this section of the State. Their stock is in endless variety, and it will pay all in need of Furniture to call before purchasing elsewhere. They Manufacture All Their Own Furniture.

AND WARRANT every piece. Their assortment is complete, from the commonest to the finest. Furniture made to order, if desired. They take a strict, feeling interest in giving entire satisfaction.

If you want anything in the Furniture line, you can get it at reasonable figures at

SPEAR & SONS,

WOOSTER, O.

TAMMANY THIEVES.

Charles O'Connor states that it can be clearly shown that Tweed and his associates fraudulently obtained from the Broadway Bank, without color of right, some $5,000,000. Recovery can be obtained against Tweed unless interfered with by corrupt legislation within 90 days. Woodward was the corrupt agent through whom Tweed worked. An opportunity will shortly be given to show how the warrants were obtained from Connolly's office. O'Connor does not believe that Mayor Hall either had a dollar or knew what was going on, but blames the Mayor for standing by others and acting as a shield after the facts became known. The burden of proof lies against Tweed, and the engineers of the law is directed against him. If Ingersoll does not leave him will be arrested, and probably lose all his property. O'Connor's efforts will be to protect what is left, and so prevent a recurrence of robberies, and says Tweed hopes to get to the Legislature again and have a more corrupt bill passed, and go back to his office in the Board of Public Works, and to carry on his former corrupt transactions. This O'Connor says must be prevented. Tweed shall have all the investigation he wants.

The fifth Convention of the Ohio Y. M. C. A. assembled at Zanesville on Friday, H. T. Miller of Cincinnati was elected President. About 400 delegates were present, representing fifty associations.

Miss Laura White of South Abington, Mass., tried to commit suicide by throwing herself from a railway train, but the cow-catcher picked her up neatly and saved her life.

A bar of silver weighing 345lbs which Mr. D. J. Oliver of San Francisco presented to the Pope at the time of the Vatican Council, has been recast into medals commemorating the Council. These medals are to be distributed among the prelates who formed that assembly.

The simple expedient of driving down an iron pipe saved the life of Levi Blanchard, who was hurled up in a well at Melrose, Mass., on last Monday. It was three hours before he was rescued, but the pipe gave him air to breathe, and he will recover.

One of the banks in Salem, Mass., received from Chicago a letter inclosing a partially burned $5 note on their bank for redemption, with the statement by the sender that this bill and one other and one of the clothes he stood in were all that the fire had left him. A new note was promptly forwarded to his address.

New Advertisements.

Prospectus for 1872—5th Year

A Representative and Champion of American Art.

THE ALDINE: An Illustrated Monthly Journal, claimed to be the Handsomest Paper in the World.

THE ALDINE, which issues with all the regularity, has none of the temporary or daily interest characteristic of ordinary periodicals. It is an elegant miscellany of pure, light and graceful literature, and a collection of the most valuable and reliable information in black and white. Although each number affords a fresh pleasure to its friends, the real value and beauty of THE ALDINE will be most appreciated after it has been bound up at the close of the year.

The monthly department, which has been introduced, has convinced the publisher of THE ALDINE of the soundness of their theory that the American public would recognize and heartily support any sincere effort to elevate the tone and standard of illustrated publications.

The monthly department, which has been introduced, has convinced the publisher of THE ALDINE of the soundness of their theory that the American public would recognize and heartily support any sincere effort to elevate the tone and standard of illustrated publications.

The monthly department, which has been introduced, has convinced the publisher of THE ALDINE of the soundness of their theory that the American public would recognize and heartily support any sincere effort to elevate the tone and standard of illustrated publications.

The monthly department, which has been introduced, has convinced the publisher of THE ALDINE of the soundness of their theory that the American public would recognize and heartily support any sincere effort to elevate the tone and standard of illustrated publications.

The monthly department, which has been introduced, has convinced the publisher of THE ALDINE of the soundness of their theory that the American public would recognize and heartily support any sincere effort to elevate the tone and standard of illustrated publications.

The monthly department, which has been introduced, has convinced the publisher of THE ALDINE of the soundness of their theory that the American public would recognize and heartily support any sincere effort to elevate the tone and standard of illustrated publications.

The monthly department, which has been introduced, has convinced the publisher of THE ALDINE of the soundness of their theory that the American public would recognize and heartily support any sincere effort to elevate the tone and standard of illustrated publications.

The monthly department, which has been introduced, has convinced the publisher of THE ALDINE of the soundness of their theory that the American public would recognize and heartily support any sincere effort to elevate the tone and standard of illustrated publications.

The monthly department, which has been introduced, has convinced the publisher of THE ALDINE of the soundness of their theory that the American public would recognize and heartily support any sincere effort to elevate the tone and standard of illustrated publications.

The monthly department, which has been introduced, has convinced the publisher of THE ALDINE of the soundness of their theory that the American public would recognize and heartily support any sincere effort to elevate the tone and standard of illustrated publications.

The monthly department, which has been introduced, has convinced the publisher of THE ALDINE of the soundness of their theory that the American public would recognize and heartily support any sincere effort to elevate the tone and standard of illustrated publications.

The monthly department, which has been introduced, has convinced the publisher of THE ALDINE of the soundness of their theory that the American public would recognize and heartily support any sincere effort to elevate the tone and standard of illustrated publications.

The monthly department, which has been introduced, has convinced the publisher of THE ALDINE of the soundness of their theory that the American public would recognize and heartily support any sincere effort to elevate the tone and standard of illustrated publications.

The monthly department, which has been introduced, has convinced the publisher of THE ALDINE of the soundness of their theory that the American public would recognize and heartily support any sincere effort to elevate the tone and standard of illustrated publications.

The monthly department, which has been introduced, has convinced the publisher of THE ALDINE of the soundness of their theory that the American public would recognize and heartily support any sincere effort to elevate the tone and standard of illustrated publications.

The monthly department, which has been introduced, has convinced the publisher of THE ALDINE of the soundness of their theory that the American public would recognize and heartily support any sincere effort to elevate the tone and standard of illustrated publications.

The monthly department, which has been introduced, has convinced the publisher of THE ALDINE of the soundness of their theory that the American public would recognize and heartily support any sincere effort to elevate the tone and standard of illustrated publications.

The monthly department, which has been introduced, has convinced the publisher of THE ALDINE of the soundness of their theory that the American public would recognize and heartily support any sincere effort to elevate the tone and standard of illustrated publications.

The monthly department, which has been introduced, has convinced the publisher of THE ALDINE of the soundness of their theory that the American public would recognize and heartily support any sincere effort to elevate the tone and standard of illustrated publications.

The monthly department, which has been introduced, has convinced the publisher of THE ALDINE of the soundness of their theory that the American public would recognize and heartily support any sincere effort to elevate the tone and standard of illustrated publications.

The monthly department, which has been introduced, has convinced the publisher of THE ALDINE of the soundness of their theory that the American public would recognize and heartily support any sincere effort to elevate the tone and standard of illustrated publications.

The monthly department, which has been introduced, has convinced the publisher of THE ALDINE of the soundness of their theory that the American public would recognize and heartily support any sincere effort to elevate the tone and standard of illustrated publications.

The monthly department, which has been introduced, has convinced the publisher of THE ALDINE of the soundness of their theory that the American public would recognize and heartily support any sincere effort to elevate the tone and standard of illustrated publications.

The monthly department, which has been introduced, has convinced the publisher of THE ALDINE of the soundness of their theory that the American public would recognize and heartily support any sincere effort to elevate the tone and standard of illustrated publications.

The monthly department, which has been introduced, has convinced the publisher of THE ALDINE of the soundness of their theory that the American public would recognize and heartily support any sincere effort to elevate the tone and standard of illustrated publications.

The monthly department, which has been introduced, has convinced the publisher of THE ALDINE of the soundness of their theory that the American public would recognize and heartily support any sincere effort to elevate the tone and standard of illustrated publications.

The monthly department, which has been introduced, has convinced the publisher of THE ALDINE of the soundness of their theory that the American public would recognize and heartily support any sincere effort to elevate the tone and standard of illustrated publications.

The monthly department, which has been introduced, has convinced the publisher of THE ALDINE of the soundness of their theory that the American public would recognize and heartily support any sincere effort to elevate the tone and standard of illustrated publications.

The monthly department, which has been introduced, has convinced the publisher of THE ALDINE of the soundness of their theory that the American public would recognize and heartily support any sincere effort to elevate the tone and standard of illustrated publications.

The monthly department, which has been introduced, has convinced the publisher of THE ALDINE of the soundness of their theory that the American public would recognize and heartily support any sincere effort to elevate the tone and standard of illustrated publications.

The monthly department, which has been introduced, has convinced the publisher of THE ALDINE of the soundness of their theory that the American public would recognize and heartily support any sincere effort to elevate the tone and standard of illustrated publications.

The monthly department, which has been introduced, has convinced the publisher of THE ALDINE of the soundness of their theory that the American public would recognize and heartily support any sincere effort to elevate the tone and standard of illustrated publications.

The monthly department, which has been introduced, has convinced the publisher of THE ALDINE of the soundness of their theory that the American public would recognize and heartily support any sincere effort to elevate the tone and standard of illustrated publications.

The monthly department, which has been introduced, has convinced the publisher of THE ALDINE of the soundness of their theory that the American public would recognize and heartily support any sincere effort to elevate the tone and standard of illustrated publications.

The monthly department, which has been introduced, has convinced the publisher of THE ALDINE of the soundness of their theory that the American public would recognize and heartily support any sincere effort to elevate the tone and standard of illustrated publications.

The monthly department, which has been introduced, has convinced the publisher of THE ALDINE of the soundness of their theory that the American public would recognize and heartily support any sincere effort to elevate the tone and standard of illustrated publications.

The monthly department, which has been introduced, has convinced the publisher of THE ALDINE of the soundness of their theory that the American public would recognize and heartily support any sincere effort to elevate the tone and standard of illustrated publications.

The monthly department, which has been introduced, has convinced the publisher of THE ALDINE of the soundness of their theory that the American public would recognize and heartily support any sincere effort to elevate the tone and standard of illustrated publications.

The monthly department, which has been introduced, has convinced the publisher of THE ALDINE of the soundness of their theory that the American public would recognize and heartily support any sincere effort to elevate the tone and standard of illustrated publications.

The monthly department, which has been introduced, has convinced the publisher of THE ALDINE of the soundness of their theory that the American public would recognize and heartily support any sincere effort to elevate the tone and standard of illustrated publications.

The monthly department, which has been introduced, has convinced the publisher of THE ALDINE of the soundness of their theory that the American public would recognize and heartily support any sincere effort to elevate the tone and standard of illustrated publications.

The monthly department, which has been introduced, has convinced the publisher of THE ALDINE of the soundness of their theory that the American public would recognize and heartily support any sincere effort to elevate the tone and standard of illustrated publications.

The monthly department, which has been introduced, has convinced the publisher of THE ALDINE of the soundness of their theory that the American public would recognize and heartily support any sincere effort to elevate the tone and standard of illustrated publications.

The monthly department, which has been introduced, has convinced the publisher of THE ALDINE of the soundness of their theory that the American public would recognize and heartily support any sincere effort to elevate the tone and standard of illustrated publications.

The monthly department, which has been introduced, has convinced the publisher of THE ALDINE of the soundness of their theory that the American public would recognize and heartily support any sincere effort to elevate the tone and standard of illustrated publications.

The monthly department, which has been introduced, has convinced the publisher of THE ALDINE of the soundness of their theory that the American public would recognize and heartily support any sincere effort to elevate the tone and standard of illustrated publications.

The monthly department, which has been introduced, has convinced the publisher of THE ALDINE of the soundness of their theory that the American public would recognize and heartily support any sincere effort to elevate the tone and standard of illustrated publications.